

TIRED OUT!

At this season nearly every one needs to use some tonic. It is not a medicine, but a tonic, and is a prescription for those who need building up.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
THE BEST TONIC
For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc. It is a tonic, not a medicine. It enriches the blood, invigorates the system, restores appetite, aids digestion, does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other iron medicines do. Dr. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says:
"Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action exceeds all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it." Dr. W. N. WARREN, 1219 Third Street, Georgetown, D. C., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the tonic of the age. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion." Genuine has above Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

WASHINGTON DISPATCHES

SPEAKER CARLISLE EXPLAINS HIS POSITION IN THE CONTEST CASE.

He Does Not Want the Case Tried in the Newspapers but Will Rely Upon His Opponent's Evidence—The Medical Congress Will go to Berlin in 1890.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Mr. Carlisle, in explaining his position in the Thobee contest, said last night to a correspondent: "I don't want to try the case in the newspapers, or to talk about it for publication, but there is such a singular misapprehension in regard to it that it is not improper for me to say that I took no testimony for the reason that it was not necessary for me to do so."

"The contestant in his notice charged fraud and irregularities in almost every precinct, but when he came to his evidence he did not even attempt to prove anything except that there were four illegal votes cast for me at one precinct at Covington, and I don't think the evidence sufficient to show that these four votes were actually cast for me. But assuming that they were, it makes no difference in the result as my majority was 815. Of course there was no reason why I should take testimony. The charges that I intended to rely upon some legal technicality and that I will ask an extension of time to take testimony are preposterous. The law allows me all the time necessary, if I had desired to avail myself of it. Certainly, I wouldn't accept a seat in the house if my right to it could be sustained only by a technicality; and, so far from relying on any such ground, I don't even intend to employ an attorney or submit any argument to the committee of the house. Members can take the record just as my opponents have made it up, and on that they can decide the case without interference from me."

Carlisle and the Speakership.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—It can be stated upon authority that the friends of ex-Speaker Carlisle in the next congress have been seriously considering with him the advisability of not allowing his name to go before the Democratic caucus as a candidate for speaker, but to put some one of their number forward for that position and to make Mr. Carlisle chairman of the ways and means committee. This matter was discussed with the president while Mr. Carlisle was at Oak View this week in connection with the tariff subject. Many tariff reformers think that if Mr. Carlisle can be induced to believe that his assuming the chairmanship of that important house committee would lead to or bring about harmony on this vexed question, he would forego his personal ambition and accept. What conclusion has been reached will not develop until much later, as a general interchange of views will now take place among the members of the incoming congress which is composed of many new members.

The Medical Congress in 1890.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The medical congress assembled this morning and adopted unanimously the report of the committee selecting Berlin as the place for holding the next congress in 1890. Professor Virchow was named as the next president. A resolution was adopted, calling the attention of this medical congress to the frequency of railroad accidents, and urging it to use its influence to bring about necessary reforms; also a report from the military and naval section that army surgeons make monthly reports. Dr. Fielding Blandford, of London, then read a paper on "The treatment of recent cases of insanity in asylums and in private homes."

MILK "TRUST."

A Great Monopoly in the Lactical Fluid, the Latest Financial Invention.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The Milk Shippers' union of the northwest held an important session yesterday. One of the principal matters considered was the formation of a great company or "trust" to monopolize the entire milk business of Chicago. Over one hundred shippers representing between thirty and forty towns on all the roads coming into the city were present.

The report of a committee appointed at the last meeting of shippers, in April, was read. This committee was to investigate and devise some plan by which to secure more complete co-operation among milk producers. The report recommended that the capital stock of the corporation be $100,000, divided into 10,000 shares of $10 each.

Any farmer producing one can of milk per day should be entitled to at least one share, and no person not a producer of milk shall be allowed to own any stock. The board of directors should have power to fix the price of milk every six months, and control its sale to the dealers and consumers. The directors are to purchase all the product from the producers. When there is no market, or there is a surplus of milk, the surplus is to be converted into butter and cheese.

The report concluded with a mass of statistics showing the probable effect of the corporation plan. The committee was instructed to have the report printed in English and German, and circulate it among the 4,000 shippers who send milk into Chicago. The matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the Shippers' association in October.

BLAINE NOT A CANDIDATE.

He Says He Has No Idea of Allowing His Name to Be Used.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—A special cable to the News from Hamburg, says: Mr. Blaine has found the bankers of Frankfurt very hospitable already. He has been their guest at the opera and was the recipient of an informal ovation, if the word may be used, at Seligman's mansion. The Frankfurt bankers have innumerable wealthy connections in the states. They wield a political as well as a financial power the world over. Seligman's brothers and relations are princes among the money makers of Vienna, Paris, Brussels, London and New York. Blaine's credit correspondence will be through their European branches. When he presented his letter to Seligman the wary banker instantly recognized him and proceeded to make a stir. He assured Mr. Blaine of his high regard and then escorted him through the various banking institutions of the city, introducing at first as "the coming president of the United States."

As Seligman recounts the experience Blaine presently objected to this and assured him smilingly that he was not a candidate.

"But my brother tells me," persisted Seligman, "that you are sure to be elected."

"I have no idea of allowing my name to be used," said Blaine. "I am not seeking the presidency, nor would I take it as a gift."

Why the Hawaiian Loan Failed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Ex-Premier Wilder, of the Hawaiian Islands, president and principal owner of the Hawaiian Steamship company, has arrived from London. Being asked with reference to the loan for which he was negotiating in London, he replied that bonds for $1,500,000 had been placed, and within twenty-four hours of the time when the news of the Hawaiian troubles was received he would have been in possession of the money. He claims delay was caused by the news, but it is only temporary, and within three months the loan will be negotiated.

The Ladies Aid Society.

AKRON, O., Sept. 10.—The Ladies' Aid society, auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans of the United States, adjourned to-day after electing a long list of National officers for the ensuing year. Mrs. W. D. A. O'Brien, of Springfield, O., was made president. The next National convention is at Wheeling, W. Va., in August, 1888. The Ladies' Aid society is composed of daughters of veterans and wives of Sons of Veterans; it is a rival to the Daughters of Veterans, the latter having lost favor because its members put on uniforms, and paraded as a broom brigade.

Two Vacancies on the Bench.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 10.—A double killing is reported from Lafayette county. Two Irishmen got into a drunken quarrel at Lee's store, on Long Branch, when one of them drew a knife and stabbed the other, inflicting a wound which resulted in death the next day. A citizen by the name of Woods undertook to arrest the murderer and hold him until an officer could be found. The murderer then attacked Woods, who killed him instantly with a shotgun. Woods surrendered to a deputy sheriff and was acquitted.

Will Make a Vigorous Fight.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 10.—The State Prohibition Campaign committee held its first meeting here to-day in response to the call recently issued by Thomas V. Octor, chairman. A lively interest was taken in the proceedings, and the indications are that a vigorous campaign will be fought by the adherents of the party in New Jersey.

Did Get the Chance.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 10.—Joseph Wertz shot and killed James Saddle yesterday on the public road, five miles from Prosperity, Newberry county. Both men were white farmers. Saddle had threatened Wertz's life, and had told a neighbor a few days ago that he intended to cut Joe Wertz to pieces.

YOUNG IVES' LIABILITIES.

HIS OWN STATEMENT SHOWS HOW HE LIVED AND DRESSED.

He Says That "Cash in Pocket, $2," Makes His Liabilities $70,000, While His Assets are $86,875, Subject to a $60,000 Mortgage on His Yacht.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The statement of the individual liabilities and assets of Henry S. Ives & Co. was filed yesterday in the clerk's office of the court of common pleas by Assignee William Nelson Cromwell. It shows that Henry S. Ives' liabilities are $70,000, to offset which he claims assets nominally worth $86,875, and sets for as being actually worth $86,875, subject to a mortgage of $60,000 held by W. H. Starbuck on the steam yacht Tillie, bought by Ives last spring, and which he includes in his assets as being worth $85,000.

George H. Stayner's liabilities are $72,455.84. His assets are nominally worth $187,350, but their actual value shows a shrinkage to $29,337.50, or $43,218.34 less than he owes. Thomas C. Doramus, the junior member, owes nothing and owns nothing. His seat in the stock exchange he turned into the firm as his share of the capital. The assignee makes up the list of Ives' assets as follows:

	Nominal value.	Actual value.
Steam yacht Tillie, subject to mortgages of $60,000.....	$60,000	$85,000
One pair bay horses.....	300	300
Two sets double harness.....	200	124
Two sets single harness.....	150	140
One French hansom cab.....	1,000	750
One Brewster victoria.....	800	400
Totals.....	$67,450	$85,775

The bills are a motley collection and show indebtedness of various sorts, the most of them commencing early in the summer, up to which time Ives seems to have paid up some of his accounts. In some respects Ives was luxurious and these accounts show that he not only had the best of everything, but that he did not practice any great amount of self-denial. Although his dress evidenced that he did not want to be considered dandy, he had more clothing than many models of the tailor's art, and all of the expensive material made by a high-priced tailor. From June 13 to the date of the assignment, August 11, he had five suits made by Henry Prouse Cooper, with an extra pair of trousers with each suit, the bill amounting to $430. His bootmaker was Thomas McKay, who made for him between June 15 to August 8 four pairs of boots, and did some repairing at a cost of $57.25. Kaskel & Kaskel were his haberdashers, and from June 13 to July 29 they furnished him with scarfs and neckties galore, silk underwear, a silk night-shirt, and numerous other articles for which they put in a bill of $84.05.

Since June he has had three hats from Youmans', cost $16; J. M. Hodgson, the florist, has a bill against him for $70, one item of which is a basket of flowers furnished July 19 for $30; Tiffany has an unitemized bill of $183; and Theodore B. Starr, the Fifth Avenue jeweler, has a bill of $1,780, among the items being a silver tea service at $1,200, five gentlemen's pins, seven flower pins and other articles for personal adornment or household use. His piano he did not own, for C. H. Ditson has a bill against him of $35 for rent of piano and cartage. He owned horses and carriages, yet there is a bill against him of $50.50 by a Brooklyn livery keeper for cab hire. Park & Tilford supplied him in the provision line, for which service they have put in a lot of bills footing up to about $1,500. There are also a lot of bills for materials and supplies for the yacht, including signals, charts, repairing sails, uniforms for crew, lights, plumbing work on engines, etc. With the exception of W. H. Starbuck, who holds the mortgage for $60,000 on the yacht, none of the creditors has any security. The assignee states that he has chartered the yacht for the balance of the season on a cash rental. Mr. Starbuck is the person to whom he chartered her, and she is now flying his flag as commodore of the American Yacht club.

The statement of Stayner's assets comprises a long list of securities, most of which are absolutely of no market value whatever. Of them the assignee says that the only ones worth anything are the bonds of the Mineral Range Railroad company, of which Mr. Stayner holds $6,000, and the stock of the American Exchange in Paris, the American Bank Note company, and of the Mineral Range Railroad company. The greater part of Mr. Stayner's indebtedness arises out of money borrowed on notes. His personal bills are of a different nature from those incurred by Ives, several large ones being for books, and among those bills are those of Scribner & Welford, $925.11; Charles Scribner's Sons, $115.50 and R. L. Solomon's Sons, $996.13. Like Ives, he too, owed a tailor's bill, and to the same firm, but it only amounts to $295. There is an item of debt to Sarah L. Stayner of $4,500 put down on cash borrowed on four notes on which $500 had been paid on account, and to secure which a mortgage had been given on his residence, although in the list of assets no mention is made of any residence. The name of Eliza Stayner also is put down as representing a claim by her for $2,120.15, but for what is not stated.

On the original memorandum of his personal property made up by Ives, that gentleman coolly adds this item: "Cash in pocket, $2," which brings his assets up that much more. Assignee Cromwell filed his bond for $800,000 yesterday, and it was approved by Judge Lawrence. The sureties, who qualified in double the amount, are W. H. Starbuck, J. N. Franklyn and J. H. Humphreysville.

OTTAWA, Ill., Sept. 10.—The supreme court met at 9 o'clock this morning. Nothing relative to the Anarchist's case has come up. The court is hearing arguments on call of docket.

BURKER ROSS HANGED.

One of the Most Cold Blooded Murders on Record Legally Avenged.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 10.—John Thomas Ross, aged twenty-six years, was hanged in the Baltimore jail at 12:43 this afternoon. He was to have been hanged August 23, but was respited. The crime which Ross executed on the gallows to-day was one of the most cold blooded and atrocious ever committed in this state. It was the murder of an old white woman named Emily Brown, Friday, December 10, 1885. The crime was committed in order that the murderer might "get a stake," as he confessed the motive, by selling the body of his victim to a medical college for the pittance sum of $15. Ross made a full confession of his crime, and implicated Anderson Perry, assistant janitor at the Maryland university, and Albert Hawkins, both colored. The confession of Ross was in substance as follows: Emily Brown was a white woman of fifty-five years, who had seen better days. She had rich relatives on the eastern shore, but was a stranger to them. Impaired health and dire necessity compelled her to take up her abode with Mary Blockson, colored, and her son, John Thomas Ross, at No. 3 Pig alley.

Anderson Perry boarded there. Perry continually urged Ross to kill Emily Brown, saying the college would pay $15 for the body. Finally he yielded to persuasion and procured the assistance of Albert Hawkins. They went to the house when Mary Blockson was absent, entered Emily's room and killed her. Ross mashed her head with a brick and a hammer, and Hawkins stabbed her. A wheelbarrow was procured, and after putting the corpse in a bag, Ross trundled it through the streets to the university, delivered it into Perry's hands, who shaved the head and prepared the body for the dissecting table. Dr. Herbert Harlan, the demonstrator, next morning noticed the wounds on the head and body and notified the police. This led to Ross' arrest, and subsequently Perry's and Hawkins'. The trial resulted in the conviction of Ross and the acquittal of the other two, notwithstanding Ross testimony against them.

Low Water in the Ohio.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Sept. 10.—River men are unanimous in their opinion that it will be two, possibly three, months before the Ohio river is again navigable, and the stage of the river from Pittsburgh to Cairo, they claim was never lower. Steamboats of small dimensions, built expressly for low water trade now endeavoring to plow between here and many points below, are experiencing great difficulty in effecting landings. Farmers, shut off from railroad facilities, whose only opportunity is by steamboats in transporting their products—principally tobacco—are greatly discomfited thereby. Hogsheds after hogsheds lay on either side of the stream awaiting shipment to Louisville, and now arrangements are being made to team the article to the nearest point and dispose of it for the purpose of purchasing the necessities of life.

Indiana Election.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., Sept. 10.—The Creek National election for chief, second chief and members of the houses of kings and warriors occurred Tuesday. Returns come in slowly, but so far indicate the election of Legus Perryman, of Tulsa, as chief over Joe Perryman, the present incumbent. Legus Perryman favors the sale of Oklahoma. He is a man of good ability, fine education, has been delegate to Washington, D. C., and enjoys the confidence of his people. The election went off quietly and but one political shooting scrape occurred.

Conductor Held for Manslaughter.

CRESTON, Iowa, Sept. 10.—The little son of Charles E. Cook, of Brooklyn, N. Y., injured in the Afton wreck, died last night. Miss Sarah Grunig, of Cleveland, O., badly scalded, is still very low. The other injured ones are doing well, including Mrs. Mosher, who was pronounced fatally injured. The coroner's jury were taking testimony all day, and returned a sealed verdict. Conductor B. S. Childs, of the fast mail, was held for manslaughter, and his bond fixed at $1,500.

A Young Burglar Caught.

NEW BREMEN, O., Sept. 10.—Billy Schneider, a worthless young character, was caught in the act of burglarizing John Geecke's saloon at Minster. He was arraigned before Mayor Laufersweiler, who bound him over to court in the sum of $500, and in default of same was lodged in the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Hotel Burned to the Ground.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 10.—Late last night the large hotel at Point Place, owned by the Toledo Marine company, was burned to the ground. The guests were able to escape with most of their effects. Point Place is Toledo's oldest summer resort, and the new hotel was completed three years ago at a cost of $10,000. The club house, the bar and billiard room were also burned.

A Probable Murder.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 10.—An old negro man, known as "Uncle Napier" was found dead by the side of the railroad, at Trenton, a few miles south of here, last night. It is believed that he was murdered and placed by the track to create the impression that he had been killed by the cars. The only wound on his body was a crushed place on his forehead.

Drowned Before His Father's Eyes.

MOUNT VERNON, Ind., Sept. 10.—This evening, while crossing the Ohio river in a skiff, Bradford Barbee, aged twenty-two, was seized with an epileptic fit and fell out of the skiff and drowned before his father could rescue him. He was a son of David Barbee, well known throughout Kentucky, who was with him when the sad accident occurred.

Would-Be Murderer Sentenced.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 10.—Marion Fox, of this place, got five years in the pen for attempting to murder a Mrs. Pittman. Fox wanted Mrs. Pittman to desert her husband, but she refused, and he shot her twice.

Killed By the Cars.

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 10.—While playing on the railroad track Thursday afternoon, a four-year-old son of John Bowers, of this place, was instantly killed by the cars.

«No Hard Times Visible at Our House!»

—JUST CALL AND SEE THE—

IMMENSE VARIETY IN ALL OF OUR DEPARTMENTS!

«CLOTHING»

We never before had so large or well-assorted line. We no longer know of competition, as we feel satisfied that we are selling two-thirds the Clothing sold in Maysville; and why should we not? Our prices are lower and goods far superior to others. Our fine, Silk, Satin and Serge-Lined Suits and Overcoats for Men are not factory slop-shop work, but goods that have been designed by some of America's leading designers, manufactured by fine artists, and purchased at great bargains.

In Boys' and Children's Wear we show fully three times as many styles as all other houses combined, and in addition to our regular line for Children, we have a full line of Jersey Suits and Overcoats, all at very low prices.

Merchant Tailoring.

Our fame in this line is not confined to Maysville, as we daily receive orders for some of our fine work from all parts of the State. Although the season has scarcely begun, we are crowded to our fullest capacity to fill orders. Our home trade in this line has also been immense. We have booked orders from most of our leading citizens, who have confidence that Clothing turned out by us will be right. We are now employing more hands than are employed by all other tailors in Maysville combined.

In Furnishing Goods it is only necessary to say that we handle full lines from Wilson Bros., Chicago, and Simons, Hatch and Whitten, of Boston, to insure our trade that we handle the best in the land.

SATURDAY EVE., SEPT., 10, 1887.

EX-GOVERNOR KNOTT has left Frankfort, and returned to his old home at Lebanon.

MORDECAI WILLIAMS, of Boyd, and Colonel H. C. Shump, of Lewis, are mentioned as candidates for the office of Railroad Commissioner.

THE citizens of Mt. Sterling are very much concerned over the purchase of the "coal road" by C. P. Huntington a day or so ago, and are anxious to learn what he intends doing with it. The railway king undoubtedly has his eyes on the rich mineral lands in Eastern Kentucky, and is fixing to extend his roads in that direction.

EX-GOVERNOR KNOTT will, it is said, spend most of his time during the next three or four weeks in the interest of the State Industrial and Commercial Conference to be held at Louisville next month. That conference has for its object the advertising to the world of the great natural resources of Kentucky—its vast undeveloped wealth in the way of coal, iron and timber—and the Ex-Governor is engaged in a laudable work in devoting his time to insure the success of the meeting.

A COMPANY of Eastern capitalists is reported as having bought several thousand acres of land in the neighborhood of the Martin farm in Rowan County. The Elizabethtown, Lexington and Big Sandy Railroad runs through the land, and the Fleming Gazette is informed that "the corporation propose to start a manufacturing town. A hundred neat residences will shortly be erected. Every description of work will be carried on, and the hum of industry will be heard all over Rowan. This will draw heavily on Morehead, as her business men will move into the new town."

A Railroad Building Boom.

An Associated Press special from Knoxville, Tenn., says: "The mountainous section comprising Tennessee, Southwest Virginia, Eastern Kentucky and Western North Carolina has at present only meager railroad facilities, but promises to soon be the scene of the greatest activity in railroad building ever known in the United States. The rich coal fields, iron deposits and timber resources of East Tennessee are beginning to attract the attention of the foreign capitalists, and all the roads in the central plateau will cross East Tennessee and tap the coal fields, either at Cumberland Gap or Chattanooga."

The special alluded to gives the names of thirteen railroads all aiming for that section. Many of them are already being constructed. Undoubtedly, the next few years will witness a marvelous change in that region.

"I Feel so Well."

"I want to thank you for telling me of Dr. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription,' writes a lady to her friend. 'For a long time I was unfit to attend to the work of my household. I kept about, I felt terribly miserable. I had terrible back-aches, and bearing-down sensation across me and was quite weak and discouraged. I sent and got some of the medicine after receiving your letter, and it has cured me. I hardly know myself. I feel so well.'"

In the Front Rank.

In speaking of Baird's Minstrels, the Des Moines State Leader says:

The company is a strong one, and has undoubted merit to recommend it to public favor. The jokes, for a rarity, are found after careful investigation, not to have been inscribed on the Egyptian obelisks, but are sparkling, bright and modern, mirth-provoking and new. The songs, as rendered, were creditable and keenly enjoyed. In the domain of minstrelsy the Baird troupe occupy a front seat, and never fail to realize the high expectation of an audience. Their return to Des Moines will be looked forward to with pleasurable anticipation by the amusement public, and their re-appearance here would be greeted by a full house.

All "Played Out."

"Don't know what ails me lately. Can't eat well—can't sleep well. Can't work, and don't enjoy doing anything. Ain't really sick, and I really ain't well. Feel all kind of 'played out' somehow. That is what scores of men say every day. If they would take Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery' they would soon have no occasion to say it. It purifies the blood, tones up the system and fortifies it against disease. It is a great antibilious remedy as well.

City Items.

A MASS MEETING

To Select Delegates to the Coming Industrial and Commercial Conference.

To the People of Mason County: There is an earnest, active effort on foot to secure some good for Kentucky by widespread advertising of the wonderful natural resources of the State. Many other States not so blessed by nature have become more populous and more wealthy by taking pains to make what advantages they do possess widely known to the world. That is what it is intended to do for Kentucky.

There are various organizations and agencies at work to bring about a new era in the development of the State, all composed of reputable citizens with, we believe, an honest motive. One of these is a State committee which grew originally from a branch of the Louisville Board of Trade, of which the Chairman is Hon. J. Proctor Knott, late Governor of the State, and associated with whom are several Kentuckians of prominence, including John R. Proctor, late of Mason County, and now State Geologist. This committee has planned a State Industrial and Commercial Conference, to be held in Louisville in October, to which every county is invited to send delegates.

The undersigned were appointed by the Governor to assist in the organization of an interest in Mason County in the work of this State conference. In order that the county may be represented to the best advantage, we suggest that a mass meeting of citizens of Maysville and Mason County be held in the court house next Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing the objects of the Louisville conference, and of electing ten delegates to attend that meeting. It is hoped that every district in the county shall be represented here on Monday afternoon.

EMERY WHITAKER,
FRANK S. OWENS,

Auxiliary Committee for Mason County.

Fencing and Timber Burned.

Mr. Martin Cooney, who lives on Lawrence Creek near the bridge on the Blue Run and Anderson's Ferry Turnpike, had considerable fencing destroyed by fire last Sunday. The fire spread to a locust grove and about three acres of the timber was also destroyed or greatly damaged before the flames could be gotten under control. Mr. Cooney offers a reward of $50 for information that will enable him to convict the person or persons who started the fire.

DR. MARSH, who left here a week or so ago, has permanently located at Muncie, Ind. He writes back giving a glowing account of Muncie and its bright prospects, and speaks in flattering terms of the hearty reception accorded to strangers by the citizens of that place. Young men especially are warmly welcomed. The following notice is taken from the Muncie Daily News:

"Dr. H. Marsh, formerly of Maysville, Ky., has moved to this city and taken office rooms on Mulberry street. Dr. Marsh comes from Maysville well recommended, having been intimately known for years by several prominent residents of this city. He will be a regular consulting physician and make a general practice of homeopathy and surgery. He has had several years experience since graduating. We welcome the doctor in our midst, and bespeak for him the confidence of the people, and hope he will receive a share of patronage of the citizens of Muncie and Delaware County."

The doctor's many friends in this city and vicinity wish him success in his new home.

THE EXPRESS COMPANIES.

NAMES OF THOSE OPERATING IN THE UNITED STATES.

Capital Stock of Each Company and Dividends Paid to Stockholders. Where Each System Operates and Over What Roads—New Features Recently Added.

New York, Sept. 10.—Since the recent sale of the Baltimore & Ohio Express company, a general interest has been taken by the public in anything pertaining thereto, and anything relating to the business of the big express companies is read with great interest. The recent hearings before the interstate commerce commission revealed some interesting facts on this subject. There are four leading express companies of the country, as follows:

Companies	Stock	Dividend rate	Price
Adams$12,000,000	8 per cent.	145
American18,000,000	6 per cent.	103
Wells, Fargo & Co.6,250,000	8 per cent.	128
United States10,000,000	4 per cent.	85

Beyond these there is the Pacific Express company, a Nebraska corporation, with an authorized capital of $4,000,000. The Pacific operates in the west and southwest. Its earnings are distributed among the railroads interested, such as the Union and Missouri Pacific, according to mileage. The Northern Pacific express, though nominally a stock concern, is in reality a department of the railroad company. The four companies in the above table have a joint capital of $46,250,000. The last dividend rate and late quotations are given. The $10,000,000 capital of the United States, includes the $3,000,000 just added on account of the Baltimore & Ohio purchase.

The Wells-Fargo concern was organized by the Fargos of the American express. Its operations cover 85,000 miles of rail and stage lines west of the Missouri river. The field of the Adams Express company is about identical with the Pennsylvania railroad system. The United States runs over the Delaware & Lackawanna—this since the Erie company undertook to do its own express business. West, the operations of the states are mainly confined to the lines of the Rock Island road. The Erie express is organized as a department of the railroad. The field of the Southern Express company is implied in its title. The chief express connection with Canada is through the American company. More than one railroad, like the Long Island, carries on business under an express title, but these various projections are only departments of the railroad organizations proper.

The American express extends over the Vanderbilt system and affiliated lines—the New York Central and connections to Chicago, roads running west and northwest from Boston, the Northwestern, Illinois Central and the Burlington lines from Chicago.

The American concern represents the ideas of Commodore Vanderbilt with respect to the quality of the railroad and express business. The commodore used to say that railroad work properly ends on the whole with rolling cars over the track; that it should have nothing to do with such a thing as the express business, which mainly consists in collecting from the public for shipment the very many articles acquiring special attention. The question is a practical one now, when the railroads of the country are passing into fewer hands. The original idea of the railroad's work was simply to furnish tracks to be used by individuals for their own engines and cars on paying toll. Vanderbilt saw the true limit that a railroad cannot profitably go into the business of collecting goods from the public. It is apparent that Robert Garrett lived in his eyes too much when calculating the profits that would accrue to his road from holding the express business. The Reading road tried the express business, but with results so disastrous that the franchise was turned over to the Adams company. The expressmen are finding satisfaction in the growing evidence that their business must continue apart from that of the railroads. As regards the prospects for an express trust, the question is identical with the unification of railway direction—when there is but one rail and there will, in all likelihood, be but one express company.

These various express organizations make no report to the public. Being independent of the railroad companies, their direct responsibility is only to the stockholders. It is urged, on behalf of the companies, that they are no more than large, private shippers, and can in no case be subject to the present interstate commerce act. There are no statistics available showing the classes and volume of business carried on by the leading express companies. The volume is, of course, enormous.

Express officials unite in asserting that the usual division of receipts is 40 per cent. to the railroads, 50 for collecting the goods, and 10 for profits and insurance. One thing is apparent: Such are the influences at work that the companies are forced constantly to reduce rates and as a remedy to seek larger traffic.

From 1879 the parcel business of the express companies has had a great development. On books and other printed matter the rates of the leading express companies are approximately the same as postoffice rates. At these rates, however, matter cannot be taken for points away from lines of rail. As against the postoffice, the express men offer some advantages. The express people take the commercial risk; the government cannot do this. To be sure the losses through the postoffice are small, but at the same time there is no absolute guaranty. The postoffice serves as a regulator of express charges on parcels, the effect being to force reductions. Any deficiency in postoffice revenues is made good from taxation. In this way the most formidable competition is kept up. The flexibility of commerce is fostered by government action. The Wells, Fargo company announces that it is prepared to "make collections and fill commissions."

In 1882 the express companies began the business of selling money orders. The American led off. At the end of a year the United States adopted the idea. Since then the Wells-Fargo and the Northern Pacific have adopted it, and now the Pacific express is to follow. Again, the charges approximate those of the government for postal orders. The express money order has advantages over the postoffice issues. The postal order is payable at but one office; the express order is payable at many offices. Again, the express companies take the risk of loss. The flexibility of commerce is again gained against government red tape.

A marked feature of the express development is the tendency toward uniform rates for the entire country. Already progress in this direction is so great as to show how gradually both railway freight and express charges are approaching the unity principle.

A Kentucky Farmer Killed.

PARIS, Ky., Sept. 10.—John T. Garth, aged fifty, a wealthy farmer living five miles from here, was found dead this morning 500 yards from his residence. He had been drinking heavily and it is supposed that his horse ran away and killed him. He leaves a wife and four children.

LOCAL OPTION.

JEFFERSON DAVIS'S Opinion Why It Is Commendable.
BOONVILLE, Mo., Sept. 10.—In response to a letter of inquiry, Mr. Wallace Williams, editor of the Boonville Advertiser, has received the following letter from Jefferson Davis:

"BEAUVOIR, Miss., Sept. 1.
"DEAR SIR—I have received your letter of the 27th ult. requesting me to settle the question in regard to my opinion as to local option being a proper method to secure temperance. Many of the controversies of men are rather in relation to terms than things. If local option means the right of a local community to decide whether they will have barrooms and saloons licensed to sell intoxicants, then I should say, if thus limited, I should be in favor of the exercise of the power. It would be commendable for two reasons.

"First—The adoption of the rule would depend upon the consent of the governor.

"Second—The rule being supported by public opinion, could be peacefully and efficiently executed. The measure would be merely withholding the license to do that which one has not an inalienable right to perform, would take no one's property without just compensation and would not invade the rights of any man's neighbor. You will not fail to perceive that my position is very far short of what is demanded by the Prohibitionists, to use the recognized designation of an existing party. Respectfully,

"JEFFERSON DAVIS."

A Wedding Feast but No Wedding.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.—Miss Elizabeth Snyder, an elderly and well-to-do German lady who keeps a small candy store at Liberty and John, was to have been married Thursday at 4 p. m. to Andy Roher, aged thirty, of 141 Charlotte street. It was whispered about that Andy was after the old lady's money. The expectant bride had complete faith in her lover, however, and she hired a band of music and a hack and invited over sixty guests to the wedding. About five hours before the ceremony was to take place, the bride expectant went to hunt up her lover at his John street room and found him lying on the bed intoxicated. He said: "I've changed my mind and don't intend to get married." Although greatly shocked, Miss Snyder determined not to disappoint her friends, and so the feasting and other festivities came off Thursday night according to program, the groom being absent. Miss Snyder was very gay, and told her inquisitive friends that she was celebrating her fiftieth birthday.

Hotel Burned.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Sept. 10.—The Hotel Arlington, at Saegertown, Pa., six miles north of this place, erected last spring at a cost of $25,000, was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The guests, twenty-five in number, barely escaping, saving nothing. The house contained sixty-five rooms. Harding & Jefferys were the lessees, and lost all their furniture, valued at $7,000. They are fully insured.

Child Commits Suicide.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 10.—A special to the News Herald from New Smyrna says that Lizzie Abbott, aged eleven, committed suicide there Tuesday. Her mother returning from a brief absence, found the child dying. She admitted taking strychnine and said: "Mama, I am tired of living. I want to go to papa." There is no cause known for the act, other than a morbid mind.

Serious Railroad Accident.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 10.—At a late hour last night news was received from Hastings of a railroad accident that occurred there Wednesday. The St. Joe & Grand Island passenger train was run into by a Burlington & Missouri river freight. John Swedberg was killed and several other people seriously injured. The sleeping car, one coach and freight engine were ditched and wrecked.

Building the Road in Spite of Injunctions.

FORT ASSINABOINE, Mont., Sept. 10.—The Manitoba railroad extension reached the crossing of Beaver Creek, virtually the Fort Assinaboine station, at sundown last night. The garrison turned out and the Twentieth regiment band greeted the track layers with music. Some $5,000 changed hands on the result, most of the betting being on the track reaching here by December 5.

For Commercial Union.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—Another great demonstration in honor of commercial union takes place this afternoon at Waterloo, Shefford county, at which addresses will be delivered by Mr. Erasmus Wiman and other influential supporters of the movement. The cause is making considerable headway and the enthusiasm manifested in its behalf exceeds the anticipations of its most sanguine supporters.

Poisoned by a Servant Girl.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 10.—On August 9 Mrs. Vandeman, wife of a dentist, died under suspicious circumstances. The body was exhumed, and yesterday the coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Mrs. Vandeman had been given poison by the servant girl, prepared at the direction of Mr. Vandeman. Vandeman was arrested upon a charge of murder.

A Millionaire Dying.

WINCHESTER, Ind., Sept. 10.—James Morgan, the eastern Indiana millionaire, is failing rapidly. He came to this city eighty years ago, and by arduous work has accumulated a fortune of $2,500,000. He has banks at Portland, Union City and here. Mr. Morgan is now nine-nine, and his only heirs are his nephew's children.
